EduKick is very proud to introduce the opening of "EduKick Vallarta 2006" - Spanish Language & Mexican Culture Soccer, Tennis or Multi-Sport Program hosted by EduKick partner "CODEFUT," organizers of the popular annual international soccer tournament, "Copa Vallarta."

These are EduKick's inaugural "Spring Break" camps in Mexico, and we are very excited to bring this unique Spanish language, Mexican culture immersion soccer/sport camp to North American players. Interested parties can call contact EduKick at 1-866-EduKick.

"EduKick Vallarta" has it's main facilities (well-maintained grass soccer pitches, air-conditioned classrooms, computer room, locker rooms, tennis courts, basketball courts, etc.) on the campus of the "Colegio Americano", an American school located minutes from the beach in the Hotel District of this beautiful seaside town. This Spanish language immersion soccer camp also features supervised residential lodging (full board, double rooms) in a very comfortable and clean structure, and structured Spanish language instruction daily.

This is a very unique sport camp experience opportunity that combines international travel, daily Spanish language instruction, Mexican cultural education, high-level professional soccer training or a choice of either daily tennis training or our "multi-sport" option. We combine Spanish language immersion with sport training, organized socials and eco-excursions together in one "Spring Break" camp.

The EduKick Vallarta 2006 "Spring Break" program is open to those teens ages 12 and Up interested in Mexican cultural exposure through daily Spanish language instruction, eco-excursions, and intense soccer training sessions by professional and experienced USSF "A" Licensed coaches (or tennis or multi-sport activities).
